Satara to host 99th edition of Akhil Bhartiya Sahitya Sammelan

Times News Network

Pune: The 99th edition of Akhil Bharatiya Marathi Sahitya Sammelan will be held in Satara, members of the organisation announced after a meeting in Pune on Sunday.

The responsibility to host the event has been given to Satara's Shahupuri branch of the Maharashtra Sahitya Parishad and the Mavala Foundation.

"This will be the fourth time that Satara will host the Sahitya Sammelan and the first time in 32 years. The last time Satara hosted the Sammelan was in 1993 under the chairmanship of Vidyadhar Gokhale," Milind Joshi, president of Akhil Bharatiya Marathi Sahitya Mahamandal, said.

Earlier, conferences were held in Satara in 1905, 1962, and 1993.

The Sammelan will be held at Chhatrapati Shahu Stadium, the venue of the 1993 event. It is spread across 14 acres and can accommodate 25,000 participants. A committee visited various proposed venues between June 5 and 7.

Other organisations that expressed their wish to host it included Sadanand Sahitya Mandal (Audumbar), Ichalkaranji branch of Maharashtra Sahitya Parishad, Dakshin Maharashtra Sahitya Sabha (Kolhapur), and Shahupuri branch (Satara) of Maharashtra Sahitya Parishad. The Shahupuri branch actively pursued this opportunity for the last 12 years. Earlier this year, the 98th edition of the Sahitya Sammelan was held in New Delhi.

Vishalgad Urs not held, yet 1,300 went to fort for prayers at dargah

Everyone Left By 5PM, Bandobast To Continue

Although the dargah trust officials proposed a modest Urs celebration this time, but authorities implemented a complete prohibition

Kolhapur: Around 1,300 devotees visited Vishalgad to offer prayers at Hazrat Peer Malik Rehan's shrine on Sunday. The traditional four-day Urs, scheduled to begin on Sunday, was cancelled following restrictions by the state archaeology department.

The Bakrid qurbani proceeded according to Bombay high court guidelines. While the Urs typically draws thousands of attendees, recent campaigns by right-wing organisations against encroachments have led to reduced attendance. The previous year's event was marred by violence over encroachment issues. The animal sacrifice ritual was conducted under strict protocols, requiring enclosed private premises. The area was surrounded by metal sheets to ensure compliance.

Devotees from various regions queued early to climb to the fort, presenting identification such as Aadhaar cards for registration. The administration limited visits between 9am and 5pm, prohibiting overnight stays. All 1,300 registered visitors completed their darshan/prayers within the stip[ula]ted time. Sub divisional [offi]cer Sameer Shingate, o[f] Pannaladivision, said "[Eve]ryone left the fort b[y] 5pm. Police bandobast [and] scrutiny will remain in [pla]ce for three more days."

Although the dar[gah] trust officials propose[d a] modest Urs celebration, [aut]horities implemented [a] complete prohibition.

Kolhapur's superin[ten]dent of police Yogeshku[mar] Gupta said the adminis[tra]tion has challenged the [HC] ruling permitting anima[l sa]crifice at the fort in the [Su]preme Court. Right-w[ing] groups opposed the HC d[eci]sion, demanding the pr[ohi]bition of both Urs and [ani]mal sacrifice at the 11th-[cen]tury fort. These groups c[ele]brated the decision to [ban] the Urs as their success.

'Leopard may have left Pune airport'

Joy.Sengupta
@timesofindia.com

Pune: Senior officials of the state forest department have said the leopard first sighted on the premises of the Pune airport on April 28 has not been seen after May 15 and may have left the area.

The leopard confirmed as a fully grown male by the forest department was sighted multiple times at the airside, but could not be captured, chief conservator of forests, Pune, Praveen NR told TOI. "There is a chance it is not present in the area. Our teams are vigilant nevertheless and we will resume our search operations immediately if it is seen again."

On April 28, the leopard was seen first at 7am and then at 6pm near the runway. Many flyers seated in their flights made videos of the animal sitting near the runway. The sighting had triggered a search operation.

"We stopped the search after launch of Operation Sindoor in early May. We resumed after the op was over, but the animal couldn't be sighted. We are in touch with authorities of IAF and Pune airport. We have requested that they let us know if the leopard is seen again so that we can take action," the official added.

Maha installed more solar pump[s] in 2 yrs than rest of country: CM

Alim.Shaikh@timesofindia.com

Pune: Chief minister Devendra Fadnavis on Sunday said Maharashtra has outpaced the rest of the country in the installation of solar-powered agriculture pumps.

Speaking to reporters at the inauguration of Maha Urja's new administrative building in Aundh, Fadnavis said the state installed five lakh solar pumps for farmers over the past two years, compared to four lakh installed across the rest of India.

Fadnavis highlighted the state's progress in conventional and non-conventional energy initiatives and said that Maharashtra is on track to become a leader in solar energy.

Under the 'Mukhyamantri Saur Krushi Vahini Yojana', state govt is in the process of shifting 1,600 megawatt (mW) of agricultural feeders to solar energy, a project expected to be completed by 2026. "This will be Asia's largest solar project through distribution once completed," Fadnavis said.

The CM said state govt is working towards converting all major administrative buildings of govt to solar power by Dec 2025. Earlier this year, Central govt also issued guidelines to all states to electrify administrative buildings through solar energy before Dec 2025 under the 'PM Surya-ghar-Free Electricity Scheme'. The building inaugurated by Fadnavis in Aundh also fulfils norms for recogniti[on] as a green building. CM s[aid] that the infrastructure ge[ne]rates energy it requires, an[d] is one of the best examples [of] green buildings.

Responding to critic[ism] about diversion of funds [to] the Ladki Bahin Scheme, F[ad]navis said fund diversion c[an] only be alleged when mon[ey] allocated for one departme[nt] or purpose is used for anoth[er]. "If the funds are sanction[ed] for a specific department a[nd] the expenditure is shown u[n]der the same department, [it] cannot be termed as fund d[i]version," he said. He expla[i]ned that as per financial pr[o]cedures, it is mandatory to r[e]flect budgetary expenditu[re] under the head for which th[e] funds are originally allotted.

Shop owner booked after man beaten over insurance issue

Times News Network

Chhatrapati Sambhajinagar: The Satara police have registered an offence against the owner of an automobile showroom and several staff members for allegedly assaulting a customer following a dispute over a denied insurance claim for a damaged bike. The incident occurred on June 5 at a showroom located on the Beed bypass road.

According to the police, the victim had approached the showroom to request repairs for his bike, which had sustained damage in a recent road accident. However, tensions escalated when the showroom owner refused to process the repairs under the accident insurance claim. "The complainant went to the showroom to repair his bike that developed certain damage during the road accident. The showroom owner refused to repair the bike under the accident insurance claim. It led to a major dispute between the two parties," police said.

The confrontation quickly turned violent. The accused, reportedly the owner along with seven to eight staff members, physically assaulted the customer and his cousin. The attackers also allegedly issued threats, warning of consequences should they report the matter.

Acting on the victim's complaint, Satara police on Saturday registered a case under several provisions of the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita (BNS), including Section 191(2) (punishment for rioting), Section 189 (Unlawful Assembly), and Section 351 (2) (Criminal intimidation), among others. The investigation is currently underway.

Gaur kills farmer in Kolhapur village

Times News Network

Kolhapur: On Sunday morning, a gaur (Indian bison) attacked and killed a 68-year-old farmer from Kudalwadi village in Kolhapur district's Radhanagari tehsil.

The deceased, Bhikaji Berkal, a former gram panchayat employee, left for his field around 8.30am, expecting to return shortly. When he failed to return, his son, Shivaji, went looking for him, and found him unconscious with severe chest injuries. Medical professionals pronounced him dead upon arrival. Following the postmortem, the authorities released the body to his family.

Speaking to TOI, range fo[rest] officer Vishal Patil said: "Based on the injury marks on the body of the deceased and the distinctive marks fo[u]nd in the vicinity, we concluded that the attack was by a gaur. We are investigating what prompted an otherwise shy wild animal to attack the man."

The village's proximity to the forest range, where gaurs naturally inhabit, poses constant risks to local farmers. Earlier, in April, a similar incident occurred when a gaur attacked and killed a 26-year-old man on the Ajara-Amboli road.

IMD issues yellow alert for several dists today

Prasad.Kulkarni
@timesofindia.com

Pune: The city is likely to experience rain in the coming week as the Met department has issued a yellow alert for the Pune district. India Meteorological Department (IMD) has also issued a yellow alert for Monday for Ahilyanagar, Satara, Sangli, Kolhapur, Solapur, Beed, Nanded, Latur, and Dharashiv districts. The coastal areas of Ratnagiri and Sindhudurg also have a yellow warning for Monday.

According to the IMD forecast, the thunderstorms and lightning with light rain are expected during the week.

On Sunday, key weather stations in Pune, including Shivajinagar, Lohegaon, Pashan, NDA and Chinchwad, did not record rainfall.

Met forecast states light or moderate rainfall at some places accompanied by thunderstorms and lightning over Konkan, Goa, Madhya Maharashtra and Marathwada. Heavy rainfall at isolated places is also likely over these areas.

According to IMD, weather conditions are favourable for heavy showers in coastal areas. "Increase in rainfall activity with isolated heavy falls is very likely over south peninsular India, the west coast, and northeastern states from June 10 and heavy to very heavy rainfall over Karnataka and Kerala from June 13," the weather report stated.

MAJOR SNARL AT CRITICAL DWARKA JUNCTION

Pics: Pankaj Chandole

Roads around the busy Dwarka junctions in Nashik were major clogged again on Sunday. One of the reasons was the ongoing flyover works on the highway, because of which vehicles had to be diverted onto the road beneath the elevated structure. Moreover, Saturday had an important muhurat for wedding ceremonies. The road from Rasbihari Signal till Dwarka, and even further on till Wadala Naka, the Pune Road from Dwarka to Pournima Signal, and the road from Shalimar to Dwarka witnessed heavy traffic jams with motorists stranded for 30 to 40 minutes
